Design Concept & Process:

This quilt was made as a gift for my parents. It is a portrait of the house where they lived for over 60 years. It is made with many different fabrics, including upholstery fabric to give texture to the siding, tree bark, and other elements. As I was hand appliqueing and embroidering the pictorial elements, I was reading my first book about machine quilting, and when the applique was finished, I did my very first machine quilting on this piece.
